

Tasty Truths Privacy Policy

Hey, welcome to Tasty Truths. Since this is a recipe-sharing website our team built, we want to explain what happens with your data instead of just pretending privacy policies don't exist.

The whole point of this site is sharing recipes and profiles — not selling data or being creepy.

1. What Information is collected

When you use Tasty Truths, the site may collect:

- Your username
- Email (for account stuff, not spam)
- Profile info (bio, experiences, profile picture)
- Recipes you post
- Basic activity like likes, saves, and searches

Basically, only the stuff needed to make the website actually function.

What is NOT collected:

- Your personal files
 - Your location history
 - Your camera/mic data
 - What you eat at 2am (your secrets are safe)

2. Why it is Collected (Actual Reason)

This information is used to:

- Let you create and manage an account
 - Display your recipes and profile to other users
 - Improve features like profiles, nutrition filters, and user experience
 - Keep the site running without breaking every 5 minutes

3. Your Content (Recipes, Profiles, etc.)

If you post:

- Recipes
- Profile pictures
- Bios
- Experiences

That content is visible to other users on the platform (because it's a social recipe site).

However:

- Your recipes are still YOUR recipes
- We do not claim ownership over your content
- We are not stealing your secret family sauce recipe

4. Cookies (The Non-Edible Kind)

Yes, the website may use cookies (the digital kind, unfortunately).

These help with:

- Staying logged in
- Remembering your preferences
- Making the site smoother to use

They do NOT track you across the internet like some mega-corporation.
This is a student-built site, not a surveillance empire.

5. Sharing Your Information

We do NOT sell your data.

Your information will only ever be shared if:

- Required by law
- Necessary to keep the website running (like hosting/database services)
- You give explicit permission

6. Data Security

We take reasonable steps to protect your data, including:

- Secure account systems
 - Protected databases
 - Regular updates and debugging

7. Account Control (You're in Charge)

You can:

- Edit your profile anytime
- Update your bio, picture, and experiences
- Delete your account if you want

If you leave, your data won't be kept for any weird purposes.

8. Third-Party Services

Tasty Truths may use third-party tools (like hosting or database services) to function properly. These services only get the minimum information needed to operate the site and nothing extra.

9. Changes to This Policy

Since this website is actively being developed (and improved), this privacy policy might be updated over time.

If major changes happen, they'll be reflected here instead of hidden somewhere sketchy.

10. Final Note

We built Tasty Truths as a project to create a community-focused recipe platform — not to track people or misuse data.

Your privacy matters.

Your recipes are respected.

And your data is only used to make the site work better.

Now go post some good recipes.
